Diplo has hit back at a woman who is accusing him of revenge porn by seeking a restraining order against her, claiming she's the one sharing his nude photos.

As per TMZ, the hitmaker filed court docs on Tuesday (December 8) to ask a judge to sign off on a restraining order to stop the former fling from sharing explicit photos and videos of the two having sex. Additionally, the woman has allegedly been harassing both him and his family. According to the super-producer, the two met in 2018 and have engaged in explicit exchanges over the years until the connection soured sometime this year. Since then, explicit photos of him, as well as the pair collectively, have surfaced online and he is convinced that she's the one doing the spreading.

Additionally, Diplo claims that she's sent dirty photos to his past partners, including the mothers of his children. "Unfortunately, in spite of repeated requests to stop, this individual has continued to stalk and harass my client and his family for more than a year," Diplo's attorney, Bryan Freedman, told TMZ. "As a result, we have asked the Court to grant a restraining order against her and to continue this case so that this troubling situation can be resolved once and for all."

Interestingly, the woman was granted a temporary restraining order against the star in December after she alleged similar claims against the star for revenge porn and harassment
